Work done during last month

I have been learning Laravel from Laravel.com , My company guide and YouTube. To apply my knowledge, I first created a small to-do list project. This month, I started developing a Student Management website, where I have completed the frontend, including the sign-in/sign-up component page. I will now focus on further enhancements and functionality and other task for company like design webpage or power point presentation.

Work planned for the next month

Next month, I plan to develop the backend for my student management I will also create an admin panel using Laravel, where I will add a student list management feature. This will help streamline the website's functionality and improve overall performance.
